Q2. Are appropriate and current multimedia technology and communication tools used in the class? (audio, video, discussions, blogs, games, testing, homework managers, webcasts, etc.)
1	although i didn't find them so helpful	Oct 30, 2012 9:16 AM

Q3. What advice would you give to a student taking this class and/or instructor next semester?
1	Print out homework before reading. Plan to do homework problems one or two at a time.Use MAL sample quizzes and other tools as much as possible	Nov 4, 2012 1:55 PM
2	Take a lot of notes because it is hard to take the tests off of memory, it is helpful to be able to look back quickly and find resources.	Nov 2, 2012 9:20 PM
3	Pay attention to due dates and use the online materials to help. (powerpoints, help me solve this, and discussion board)	Nov 2, 2012 6:04 PM
4	Keep up with all the work...Ask questions if you don't understand	Nov 2, 2012 2:18 PM
5	Definitely take her, she is an excellent professor	Oct 31, 2012 11:04 AM
6	Stay on top of the schedule or else you'll miss deadlines.	Oct 30, 2012 9:35 PM
7	Keep up with all the readings and ask for help when needed.	Oct 30, 2012 5:58 PM
8	I would like to see online lectures posted, so I can actually hear the professor explaining the material in person. If she was able to dumb down the material and explain it easier, I would be able to understand it better.	Oct 30, 2012 1:03 PM
9	take online classes if you can effectively manage your time without the structure of a class schedule	Oct 30, 2012 11:38 AM
10	Allow more than 12 hours of study in order to succeed in this class	Oct 30, 2012 11:09 AM
11	There is no lecture, whatsoever. There is no guidance. If you can 100% teach yourself complicated concepts, then take the class. My advice: don't.	Oct 30, 2012 10:54 AM
12	You absolutely need to read the textbook to succeed.	Oct 30, 2012 10:13 AM
13	Stay with the class.	Oct 30, 2012 9:22 AM
14	for students: this class is extremely hard and time consuming and the MyAccounting Lab that we use can be very annoying. additionally i found that the book did not give proper explanantions for many things and i had to research myself.	Oct 30, 2012 9:16 AM

Q4. What did you like best about this class?
1	The wealth of tools at the MAL site.	Nov 4, 2012 1:55 PM
2	There wasn't an overwhelming amount of homework to do each week, and there was a lot of relatable information.	Nov 2, 2012 9:20 PM
3	ability to do the class online.	Nov 2, 2012 6:04 PM
4	Everything	Nov 2, 2012 2:18 PM
5	Lots of resources other than the textbook	Oct 31, 2012 11:04 AM
6	Steady rhythm. Chapters divided into week-long sections.	Oct 30, 2012 9:35 PM
7	everything	Oct 30, 2012 5:58 PM
8	able to complete the credit i needed in my own time	Oct 30, 2012 11:38 AM
9	It's online	Oct 30, 2012 11:09 AM
10	The study plans and discussion boards.	Oct 30, 2012 9:22 AM
11	honestly, i didn't really like this class, it is very structured so you know what to expect and when to expect it but it's really very hard	Oct 30, 2012 9:16 AM

Q5. What could be improved with this class?
1	Was fine, just hard!	Nov 4, 2012 1:55 PM
2	It is hard too have assignments due on Tuesday because it is right at the beginning of the week. Just to make it more structured with all the other online classes I am taking it would be nice to keep due dates consistently on Thursday or Fridays.	Nov 2, 2012 9:20 PM
3	Keep steady due dates and the quizes should not become more developed than the homework.	Nov 2, 2012 6:04 PM
4	Nothing	Nov 2, 2012 2:18 PM
5	Little reminders on the homepage about homework due on Blackboard	Oct 31, 2012 11:04 AM
6	Don't have Tuesday be the end of the week for assignments. Why not Saturdays or Sundays? For most people, Tuesday is when weeks generally start, not end.	Oct 30, 2012 9:35 PM
7	make the due dates for the discussion board assignments the same as the due dates for the homework. I had several late assignments because I would do all of the work at once. When I was working on the homework, i would then complete the discussion board for that chapter but it was already late by a day. Or add the discussion board due dates to the syllabus/assignment schedule.	Oct 30, 2012 11:38 AM
8	no use of accounting lab	Oct 30, 2012 11:09 AM
9	Lecture slides and explanations for each chapter. (E.g. Professor Shafin Ali's Online Economics, he does a great job of 'teaching' through online lectures. It is very helpful in understanding and retaining the information.)	Oct 30, 2012 10:54 AM
10	Online classes are difficult, so maybe a in-class study session lecture before tests.	Oct 30, 2012 10:13 AM
11	Nothing.	Oct 30, 2012 9:22 AM
12	the book and MyAccountingLab is very hard to work with and sometimes unclear	Oct 30, 2012 9:16 AM

1	No	Nov 2, 2012 9:20 PM
2	This class goes well with business law. Some of the material supports one another.	Nov 2, 2012 6:04 PM
3	Seriously, please have all final discussion board posts, homeworks, and tests due on a Friday, Saturday, or Sunday like most online classes. This makes it much easier to plan the week and is a more sensible approach. Although students should plan according to what is stated in the syllabus, having major assignments and class requirements due on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday rather than Tuesday will provide an easier, more natural workflow for students. It also provides a buffer for students who have busy M-F workweeks and have more time for schoolwork on the weekends, since most students tend to finish assignments within a day or two of the due date. 4	no	Oct 30, 2012 11:38 AM
5	no	Oct 30, 2012 11:09 AM
6	Although this is an online class, the teacher should still have a responsibility to "teach." There is no instruction or ecture for a class with very meticulous and extensive concepts.	Oct 30, 2012 10:54 AM
7	No.	Oct 30, 2012 9:22 AM
8	this class is really hard!!!	Oct 30, 2012 9:16 AM
