

2008 Accreditation Survey - Employee Version

Before you review this data, there are a few things to keep in mind:

- This survey was NOT conducted via random sample. The percentages are based solely on those individuals who responded to the survey request.
- The survey is almost identical to the one administered in 2002, the significant changes that have occurred over the past few years may have resulted wide disparities in the results.
- Individuals were allowed to respond only once.

- Those indicating "Don't know/Does not apply to me" are not included in the overall percentage. In some cases this proportion of responses is significant.
- A spreadsheet that breaks out specific question by constituency is available in the same workbook as this spreadsheet.
- If you would like to see the data arranged in a different format/manner please contact the Office of Institutional Research.

Academic Senate	We have much work to do to get this college back on track. The full time faculty must support the PT's which they hate!
Academic Senate	I applaud Miracosta College for the pay rate to its non-credit instructors. Although we don't have much input in the college affairs we are rewarding for our work, thus encourage to do our best. Thank you.
Academic Senate	Equity issues between part-time and full-time faculty.
Academic Senate	There is a wall between tenured and associate faculty. Associate faculty do not have the same collegial ties and are not embraced by the MiraCosta Community.
Academic Senate	Academic Senate Council needs to be more inclusive in making decisions. There is often a small group who make major decisions without adequate faculty input. Senate council representatives need more training on how to keep their constituents informed, and more commitment to representing their constituents' points of view rather than making decisions in a vacuum. Deans need to know their programs better and be more supportive of the faculty in their divisions. Too much change is happening at one time. There need to be clear written policies and procedures to implement these policies.
Academic Senate	The Academic Senate Council is too far removed from the Senate membership as a whole. There is little or no communication between the Council representatives and their constituencies, and important decisions are often made without any input from Senate members. Senate committees and committee chairs are not empowered to make decisions, or to consult with each other, without going through the Academic Senate Council and/or Senate President. This makes it very difficult for committees to work either efficiently or effectively, except on routine matters. There is a general atmosphere of distrust between the faculty and the board--that is obvious. What is not obvious, at least to most faculty, is that the fault does not lie entirely with the board. The faculty vote of no confidence in the president, while motivated by an understandable desire to register outrage, was not constructive, and was not in the best interests of the students, the college, or even of the faculty. Instead of looking to keep MiraCosta working for students in spite of the problems brought by that president, such actions by the faculty only served to make a bad situation worse. The MCC faculty are intelligent, professional and committed to helping students, and could have found better ways to protect faculty members from administrative abuses while also making the point that the president and board were out of line.
Academic Senate	It is sad to compare MCC now with MCC at our last accreditation. We have lost ground in so many areas. The Board has made enemies with the faculty and staff and amongst themselves. Leadership of the Academic Senate continues to act in secrecy, with no spirit of openness or collaboration. Most Academic Senate members are entirely disconnected from the Academic Senate Council, neither giving input nor receiving information from them. Senate Council members seem to believe they were elected to make all of their decisions in private, without representing constituents. Faculty distrust and misunderstand one another. Some of that distrust runs along racial and gender lines. Classified Senate is in constant disarray, and forgets what it has been doing from one leader to the next. Planning processes are almost entirely dismantled. On the positive side, we have high quality faculty (though far too few of them), and students are happy with the instruction we provide. We have done our best to insulate students from unrest. Within the Academic Senate we have been able to handle load, salary, sabbatical and other union issues admirably, and we have excellent service learning, career and transfer programs, and excellent faculty-led training for technology in teaching. New administration seems very capable and open up new possibilities for serving students.

Academic Senate	1. Too few are doing too much. This has to impact classroom instruction. Moreover, depending upon faculty with a full teaching load and collegial duties to perform a comprehensive self-study is not realistic. OI should fund faculty members to enable them to concentrate full time on such a study; to include consultation with outside experts to assist in the study and in developing recommendations. This process should be institutionalized every three (3) years, preferably during the summer or December/January break. We should not be afraid of such evaluation, but rather look at it as an opportunity to enhance our operation and instruction. 2. OI still needs to become a little more transparent with regard to scheduling 'deals' it may work out with individual faculty members. All such 'deals' should be announced throughout the community. In addition, OI should be communicating to all the principles upon which they base their decisions, and all faculty should be able to submit an innovative scheduling idea to OI, with a decision based upon the enunciated principles. 3. ASC should fully develop the concept of Real Time/Real Value insisting upon either release time or additional money for any/all additional responsibilities required of faculty. This is not just for the benefit of faculty, but also will require that the college evaluates and prioritize each such change/idea/policy/procedure more realistically. 4. Business Services should examine all operations that are suppose to service MCC employees, especially in the Payroll Office. Special attention should be given to paperwork required to be submitted by employees whose only purpose may be to make it easier on business services to satisfy the interest of entities other than the employees they are suppose to serve. Business Services should also make sure that procedures, changes, and statuses of particular actions are communicated to all relevant parties in a timely manner. 5. MCC should adopt a 'Continuing Evolution and Improvement Program' that focuses on the 'little things' that can be changed easily and with little/no expense. Such 'little suggestions' should be sought and every month (with a 'little' fanfare, a little change should be selected and implemented.
BAS	Overall, MiraCosta is a highly accomplished institution with much to be proud of. My colleagues are some of the brightest and most dedicated that I have ever worked with in fifteen years at various colleges. Most staff and faculty I know are extremely hardworking (way beyond what is required or expected), and very caring about our students and their goals. There is still some work to be done regarding the load agreements for faculty, specifically in terms of making sure departments are funded to comply with the load agreement. The budget staff need to work harder with department chairs to ensure this is all worked out as soon as possible. With enrollment increases, depts. should be funded accordingly. My greatest complaint right now is the stress caused by our mysterious budget issues that never seem to be resolved or explained by BAS in a logical manner. It is really my only concern with working for this college.
Benefits	Benefits for part-time faculty, particularly disability insurance, should be reviewed.
Board of Trustees	The board of trustees works poorly together and does not follow the collegial governance process.
Board of Trustees	The District has done an excellent job of governing by consensus in spite of the Board. I hope this will not change. While it can be slow and messy, in the long run it is the most effective and, in my opinion, is what contributes to the overall positive attitude of all District employees.
Board of Trustees	I disagree that MiraCosta personnel are treated with fairness and respect by the members of the governing board, particularly the current Board President. We are treated with fairness and respect by the president, vice president, deans, and our faculty and staff colleagues.
Board of Trustees	The Board needs to work out their problems. They're making the college look bad.
Board of Trustees	The Board of Governors has continues to provide ineffective leadership. MiraCosta urgently needs permanent hires in several key administrative positions.

Board of Trustees	The crisis of leadership here reflects the Board's misunderstanding of its governance principles. The Board has gone through the motions to document attempts at moving beyond the problems of the prior years, but it really hasn't demonstrated the sincere will to evolve. Having said that, I do feel that the interim president is giving them much better guidance. Most disturbing about the Board majority is their clear resentment of faculty and surprising disdain for higher education. We have belatedly gotten to Student Learning Outcomes, having attempted to establish them at the programmatic level first rather than classroom level. Having adapted to the later, we are moving quickly on this baleful trend. Despite all the problems, this remains a great working location. It operates on the principle of workaholicism, and any agency investigating the health of the school ought to look into the general fatigue of the faculty and staff. I think stronger leadership can help here.
Board of Trustees	The Governing Board really needs to stop acting so defensive for their wrongs and start being proactive in getting MiraCosta back to the prestigious reputation that we once had. NO more majority and minority!
Board of Trustees	Since the last time, I took this survey - I find myself asking 'what happened'? MCC has been in turmoil for years' now - instead of getting better - I find that it continues to become more and more fragile and toppled. A lack of willingness by the Board to listen and create a positive change is just incredible. They need to stop micro-managing and get on with their responsibilities - policy governance and fiscal responsibilities!! We see how well they did that with Richarts' settlement!! ha! They should let the administration, faculty, and staff do the jobs they were hired to do. If they'd take a minute to look - we all do an excellent job around here even with all the turmoil - How are we going to keep our accreditation if they don't stop with all the nonsense? - it's past time to forget their personal biases and personal agendas - think about what's good for the 'students'- and get off their high horses and ego/power trips.
Campus Climate	While the college may encourage open communication, I have recently noticed that some classified staff members seem to hold back questions or opinions in possible fear of retaliation for expressing honest concerns. The new Dell printers are HUGE and do not work as well as the older HP's. Currently, there seems to be no technology training. I ask co-workers or open lab staff for help when needed as there is no one else to seek assistance from.
Campus Climate	The morale at MiraCosta has improved drastically as a result of the 'change in leadership' over the past year or so. The negative energy is gone and has been replaced with an overall feeling of relief and hope. Collegiality has returned. Faculty and staff have worked hard together to refine SLO's and address accreditation standards. MiraCosta is a fantastic college and a great place to work! I am very pleased that things have turned around for the best.
Campus Climate	I am very happy to be a part of the 'MiraCosta family'!
Campus Climate	It has been a pleasure working for MiraCosta College. I am proud to be a teacher and a student as well. I actively take both credit and non-credit classes on a regular basis.
Campus Climate	The current interim president has provided excellent leadership and has helped to ease the pressure created by two and one half years of turmoil. It has been disappointing to see the Board of Trustees spend so much time on litigation and so much money on legal settlements, instead of focusing attention on service to students and on the wonderful things that faculty and staff have continued to do to improve MiraCosta College.
Campus Climate	I work at a number of local colleges. MiraCosta is by far the most professional, organized, friendly, and student-focused. It is an honor to work here.
Campus Climate	The environment created by many key administrative positions being interim is one that does not promote confidence, stability or decision making. It is difficult to optimistically move forward in an environment that is unclear and unstable. Employee confidence is difficult--if not impossible--to nurture during these times hallmarked by inconsistent leadership and the resulting effects.
Campus Climate	I have not been at MiraCosta for a long period of time, but I have to say that I love working here. I have met nothing but kind and professional people since my first day on the job. I am very happy and proud to be selected to join the MiraCosta family.

Campus Climate	Overall I am very satisfied with the quality of education at MiraCosta. I feel well-supported by the college in my teaching and I am proud to be associated with MiraCosta College.
Campus Climate	I love my job!!
Campus Climate	The issues have not been about faculty or staff. Unfortunately it took one high level administrator to gum up our wonderful institution but I am confident that we will recoup our place at the top as a role model institution. Hopefully, the board will let by gones be by gones and we can move forward. I still see some stubbornness at the board meetings, itching for a fight attitude but now it is couched in softer less loud voices. But traces of it (hostility) still lingers. Fortunately, it does not get in the way of business and Students are not directly affected.
Campus Climate	MiraCosta College is overall one of the finest Colleges in the world. Faculty Staff and students have more than adequate opportunities for great educational expectancies.
Campus Climate	Facade of collegiality belies actual practice.
Campus Climate	I once worked at a special place, and felt a sense of calling, of avocation. Then came Victoria Munoz-Richart, and all the nastiness involving the Board of Trustees. Now I have a job. A well paid job, to be sure, but a job, nonetheless. Sadly.
Campus Climate	Overall MiraCosta does an excellent job of supporting the faculty with training, facilities, and support staff. I am very happy to work here. I hear mostly positive comments from my students and colleagues which makes the environment more pleasant.
Campus Climate	It would be nice and very confirming to part timers if part time faculty had a solid trusted source of support - not just a 'figure head' at MiraCosta College. When unfair policies are put into practice and employees are not treated equally or with respect by their supervisors, part timers really have no recourse other than to accept their fate.
Campus Climate	We have to go beyond thinking we are the jewel of the CC system. We can do so much better if we incorporate new innovation with pieces that have worked in the past. Our new faculty and staff in the past five years have a changed our environment for the better and challenged the staus quo to consider another way. We must have leadership that is authentic, communicative, and innovative in its thinking. Our future depends on how we tap into every member of our campus community's wisdom and lay out a formal plan that addresses the needs of California's new majority.
Campus Climate	Overall, I find MiraCosta is a very good place to work. As an associate faculty member, I have received excellent support from Tom Severance & Al Taccone, as well as from Dick Robertson, Martin Spring, Sally Foster & Alketa Wojick. I find that faculty members and staff work collaboratively together, and are very interested in providing a good learning environment for the students.
Campus Climate	MiraCosta is, and has been an ever-growing testament to education and the community. I am proud to be a member of the MiraCosta family.
Campus Climate	Sometimes I feel like I am working at Disneyland because everything done here is so Micky Mouse. No one can get along. People who are incharge of the college are undermined by teachers who think they know everything. If the got there head of their ass's this pleace would be a better place to work. If the board was replaces this place would be better place. They can't get along. It's time for them to go. The only thing good about this place is the benifites. If the teachers at MCC looked around they would now that the classified do more work then they do. If it wasn't for the classified this place would not exisit. I hoping in the next few years I can get out of this place and go work for a place that is not so jacked up. Let the leaders lead (bceuse that's what they get paid to to) and let the teachers teach and not lead because they are teachers. As I tell people all the time and I like to talk all the teachers that work for MCC 'Take of your dipperers and put you big boy/girl pants on and deal with it'. I can't wait to leave this place!!!
Campus Climate	MiraCosta has been through some turbulent times, but it is clear that we are now moving forward, regainng trust between our constituent groups and the Board of Trustees, and we will continue to meet the needs of our students and our community and restore our fine reputation.

Campus Climate	I feel that MiraCosta College is gradually coming back to the environment we had before all the chaos and fiasco happenings. It has taken a long time, and it's not quite the way it was, but I feel things are getting better. I still think the Governing Board should be completely replaced and that we start anew. I think much of the bad atmosphere we have experienced is due to them. I think it is THEY who were much too comfortable in their seats. I think most of us realize what a choice place we have as a workplace and we were all saddened when it was tainted. We shall overcome though -- and we'll be back as strong as ever.
Campus Climate	MiraCosta is a wonderful community college. MiraCosta could be more efficient in its operations. There could be more efficient ways of executing certain services related to students and employees. Staff should want to embrace change through innovation. Some staff demonstrate unwillingness to move forward. This attitude is detrimental to MiraCosta's ability to adapt to the external environment's needs and causes conflict with other departments when they all do not operate on the same level of efficiency. Change is good. Change should be embraced. Changing to be in accord with the environment is absolutely a must to survive in these ever changing times.
Campus Climate	The governing board/leadership and negative publicity that Miracosta has received has been a source of embarrassment. This is unfortunate since the quality of education at Miracosta and its student body is higher echelon. Sometimes it feels like that the entire governing board should be disbanded and reformed with new personnel and leadership to clean house. This needs to be done sometimes, especially when there is a history of bickering and bad blood that everybody (including students) are aware of.
Campus Climate	I am fairly new to MCC but have found it to be by far the best CC to work at. The faculty are dedicated and conscientious. Administration is responsive and dependable. Open communication is evident throughout the college.
Campus Climate	Thank you for providing a great place to work, patty
Campus Climate	MiraCosta College is one of my favorite places in the world. I believe that the faculty, administration and the students are admirable, even if I sometimes disagree with their policies or actions. It saddens me to look back on the last few years because I think that a lot of people were temporarily diverted from the focus of MiraCosta. I believe that this problem has been addressed, however, and that we're all refocused back on our job of serving our community. What I believe to be true, and have believed since becoming a student here twenty years ago, is that MiraCosta has a strong undercurrent of collegiality and dedication to education that can only be temporarily forgotten.
Campus Climate	In spite of the turmoil and public humiliation the college has endured over the past 2 years, it remains a terrific learning institution. Therefore, I have hope that it will survive and prosper. The upcoming elections give us an opportunity to vote in new members and vote to maintain the board members who will serve us best. The problem has been with the current board majority and definitely with the past president/superintendent.
Campus Climate	I've enjoyed working at MiraCosta very much since starting here. I'm discouraged by the seemingly inability of our leaders to demonstrate humility and move forward to do what's best for the college. A sign of the times we live in perhaps. I do not find communication in general and specifically in fiscal matters to be open and transparent. I don't know if this is due to the continuing implementation and learning of Psoft, or because of fiscal 'worries' based on the 'palm tree' issue, or because fellow MiraCostans have different perspectives based on length of employment and a changing demographic on campus, or because I'm uninformed. Maybe a little of everything and more. I continue to do my job, enjoy my colleagues and the wonderful students here at MiraCosta while waiting for leadership to show up, leading all of us to better teamwork and communication.

Campus Climate	It is sad to compare MCC now with MCC at our last accreditation. We have lost ground in so many areas. The Board has made enemies with the faculty and staff and amongst themselves. Leadership of the Academic Senate continues to act in secrecy, with no spirit of openness or collaboration. Most Academic Senate members are entirely disconnected from the Academic Senate Council, neither giving input nor receiving information from them. Senate Council members seem to believe they were elected to make all of their decisions in private, without representing constituents. Faculty distrust and misunderstand one another. Some of that distrust runs along racial and gender lines. Classified Senate is in constant disarray, and forgets what it has been doing from one leader to the next. Planning processes are almost entirely dismantled. On the positive side, we have high quality faculty (though far too few of them), and students are happy with the instruction we provide. We have done our best to insulate students from unrest. Within the Academic Senate we have been able to handle load, salary, sabbatical and other union issues admirably, and we have excellent service learning, career and transfer programs, and excellent faculty-led training for technology in teaching. New administration seems very capable and open up new possibilities for serving students.
Campus Climate	The college is recovering well from the negative environment that occurred during the last president (Richard).
Campus Climate	Some of the questions were difficult to answer accurately because there is a disconnect between the faculty's and staff's opportunities to engage in the life of the college, which are considerable, and the board's willingness to value the results of that interaction. On the whole, we're worse off than we were 5 years ago, better off than we were 2 years ago, and figuring out how to make a better future.
Campus Climate	The current instability of the College makes it difficult to respond to the questions. What is true today may not be so tomorrow.
Campus Climate	I believe more instructional aids for all computer labs are needed. Faculty need to be treated with more respect by the board rather than an entity to push against. I am proud to be amongst the faculty at MiraCosta. During the last few years of political turmoil regarding legal issues, dismissal of administrators, selling of palm trees, and board conflicts the faculty worked with a steady hand and heart showing continued respect to all parties in public settings. I only wish our government's leaders could show its citizens the respect, sensitivity and intellectual capabilities as the Academic Senate did during the last few years at MiraCosta.
Camus Climate	Associate faculty, both credit and non-credit, have sufficient opportunities for participation in college policies and major input into anticipated student learning outcomes. Good job, MiraCosta!
Camus Climate	Overall, MiraCosta is a highly accomplished institution with much to be proud of. My colleagues are some of the brightest and most dedicated that I have ever worked with in fifteen years at various colleges. Most staff and faculty I know are extremely hardworking (way beyond what is required or expected), and very caring about our students and their goals. There is still some work to be done regarding the load agreements for faculty, specifically in terms of making sure departments are funded to comply with the load agreement. The budget staff need to work harder with department chairs to ensure this is all worked out as soon as possible. With enrollment increases, depts. should be funded accordingly. My greatest complaint right now is the stress caused by our mysterious budget issues that never seem to be resolved or explained by BAS in a logical manner. It is really my only concern with working for this college.
Dissemination of Information	I rely on email, the student newspaper and group discussions for information. I CHOOSE not to attend any type of meetings for personal reasons unrelated to the college or any college personnel.
Facilities	It seems to me that that we require a bigger maintenance budget for SEC Hub. Need repairs to floor outlet covers, our front door lock needs replacing, it took many requests before we got our staff toilet reliably repaired with a more expensive 'fix', and the sink faucet is old and leaky (although I note it hasn't been leaking lately); the energy saving light in the staff washroom was so unreliable (on and off at the wrong times; pulsing light) that it was simply disabled rather than replaced. It is quite odd that we are scimping on maintenance and repair of the facility when we have so much money for other things.

Facilities	The parking spaces at SEC are too small...like they were all designed for compact cars. There is no hot water in the library staff lounge at SEC...seems a bit unsanitary.
Facilities	For a college so concerned with aesthetics, the initial area of student contact in Admissions and Records gives a poor physical appearance and first impression to prospective students. The area, while temporary, is too cramped to be accomodating to more than 5 students at a time. The space taken up by the computers doesn't allow for privacy issues to be maintained in the close quarters and decreases the amount of students capable of being in the building at once. If they were to take out even 2 of the computers and the table, they'd be able to make counter space available and would be able to accomodate more students at once. Computer software is out of date, which causes a problem when the staff receives documents in Office 2007 instead of 2003. Simple upgrades such as Java, Flash, Adobe Acrobat and Office 2007 are not installed regularly, if at all.
Facilities	1. I do not believe that music and theatre facilities should be put before the construction of new classrooms.
Human Resiources	The school will benefit greatly from hiring more full-time faculty. The current state of affairs, wherein part-timers feel like second class citizens, yet teach half the classes, is a detriment to learning. Part timers should be included in all department meetings and departmental decision making, but should make up a much smaller percentage of faculty.
Human Resiources	Position reviews for Classified Administrators needs to be accomplished. This process has taken two years and is still not completed.The college president needs to see that this is accomplished and that other classified positions are looked at soon. The college adminsitration is doing a very good job, the faculty are top notch. The Governing board seems to be getting a little better but they need to work together and as they are the weakest link at the college by far...
Human Resiources	The Board of Governors has continues to provide ineffective leadership. MiraCosta urgently needs permanent hires in several key administrative positions.
Human Resiources	AOrt-timefaculty teach over 50% of the classes and yet they are rarely included in discussions about college governance, policy, managment etc. The resources of the college are legendary, but the allocation of these funds is atrocious. We have the highest paid FT faculty in the country..and our programs and the PT faculty are run on shoe-string budgets..this does not serve our students or the majority of our faculty well at all. The college needs to be run with the students and all faculty in mind..not just the FT faculty alone.
Human Resiources	Many excellent professional development programs are offered the week before the semester begins, that is also a very busy time for many in student services. Perhaps more flex workshops should be offered throughout the year so those depts could participate.
Human Resiources	I'd like to see more full-time faculty positions at MiraCosta. As an associate faculty member, I give the instituion my full dedication, effort and loyalty, but it can only give me a part-time career in return.

Human Resources	I'm glad to be a member and being part of the MiraCosta Community, the thing I like the most is that we have always been promoting collegiality at our college; this is what makes our college unique and difference from other colleges. But there're always improvement can be made to enhance our efficiency on providing our services, and below are the things need to be improved as my personal observation (I'm not sure whether this input is appropriate or should be included as part of the Accreditation survey): (1)The policy of the Annual Personnel Performance Evaluation are not being enforced among departments, and I also think it should be in one standard evaluation format which is utilizing the MCC evaluation online feedback as part of the process for the evaluation which has been used by only couple of departments currently. (2) The other thing is that I feel that we should establish a strategy to empower and encourage staff/faculty for submitting their personal perception, feedback and inquiries directly to Divisional VP's and the President without the fear of being intimidation from their department Directors; such as an open communication line (for issues those couldn't be resolved within the department which impact working morale, or negatively affecting the efficiency of job performance). (3) Since we have experienced the unpleasant consequence due to the management from our former leadership (President), and I think it's so important that our President and the Board should handle their business conduct in a way of complete transparency with an objective to benefit to our college and students at large. And the President of college should ensure that he/her office is welcome to everyone (not only to the VIP's), there should be a mutual trust and comfort level to be established between our President and all colleagues at all levels in our MiraCosta Community. (4) Our Human Resources Management should ensure the equity policy for all employees across the board, and to make sure that every job positions in our college are having the accurate job descriptions to reflect their responsibilities according to the assignment of the salary range; this can prevent the situation for some staff are being forced to perform multiple jobs or responsibilities those are out of class without the proper compensation and job description (although we have the CRC committee in place, but this situation happens because the pressure and intimidation and unwillingness of the support from their department Managers; some staff bare the fear of confronting hardship in working and the jeopardy of losing their jobs if they go overboard directly to the HR and CRC without the approval and support from their Managers).
Human Resources	MCC is not understaffed; employees are under-utilized. and 'dead wood' is allowed to remain in the stream. without a visible job opportunity growth ladder, nor any apparent freedom for lateral movement, the drones just buzz away their lives, one day at a time.
Interim President	The current interim sup/pres is doing a good job considering the challenges presented to her. The board and faculty/staff still need to find a way to come together to get beyond the past negative experiences and I'm not sure if that's going to be possible with an interim. She's trying very hard though so keep up the good work.
Library Services	Given the current political climate on campus and our soured relationship with the Board, many of these questions could not be adequately answered. Many times I wanted to say, With the exception of the Board. The library needs to open half an hour before the earliest class begins. Library orientations are uniformly too long and too detailed, even when I provide specific instructions about the content I need my students exposed to. Recently I was talking with four colleagues, all of whom, plus myself, have stopped scheduling library orientations for this very reason Our staff are wonderful and should be proud of their accomplishments. Nonetheless, when they offer orientations, the impression too often created is that they want to showcase how much they know, not focus on what the students need to learn at the moment. With the exception of the Articulation Office and University Transfer Center, both of which do superb work, counseling has regularly left my students unsure of what they need to do and lacking confidence in their educational progress.

Miscellaneous	This survey was very difficult to answer. In the current state of disruption, to say 'MiraCosta College' does x, y, or z leaves me wondering 'who' MiraCosta College is. In other words, at times, I found myself faltering between whether to answer regarding the MCC prior to the departure of President Richart, the MCC during the crisis, or the MCC that is still working to recover. I answered as honestly as possible for our 'interim-ness' but can't say that I would find results of this survey to be fully trustworthy.
Miscellaneous	[Personnel issue related to specific current employees. Comments sent to individuals as feedback.]
Miscellaneous	Because this is my first semester teaching, I have not had any experience with the governing board and the administration.
Miscellaneous	I teach one evening a week so my answers reflect lack on knowledge on many of the questions.
Policies and Procedures	I would like to know if a class is cancelled well before 2 - 3 days prior to the start of a semester.
Policies and Procedures	Temporary employees are not oriented properly when they arrive on campus. It would be helpful if there was an orientation that all temporary employees would go through in order to better understand how the college and their specific department and division operates and to have a procedure where they are introduced to others in their division if they will be working in that department long-term. This would allow the temporary employee to work more effectively and efficiently to reduce the learning curve through making mistakes because of lack of information at the point of hiring.
Resource Allocation	The faculty at MiraCosta continue to do outstanding work even in the midst of an extreme lack of leadership at the college. The college seems heavy on staff and still light on faculty. The fact that we are so close on the 50% law is crazy and indicative of poor leadership and planning. We need to be building classrooms and hiring more faculty. We need an effective leader in our next President, one who will not pander to the Board but instead put students first by committing to support faculty who impact these students most directly.
Resource Allocation	If the college could spend 1.6 million to buy out VMR, why can't it spend a little more to immediately complete the installation of smart boxes (computers) in all the classrooms at the CLC? How can one keep up with technology and use it as part of classroom instruction, if it isn't available? Some instructors have the luxury of a computer in the classroom while other don't. Also, the CLC is in extremely dire need of another copy machine to adequately serve the needs of the part-time faculty. Currently, the policy is a 3-copy per day per part-time instructor limit on the office copy machine. How petty is this?! When told of this policy, outsiders laugh and think it's a joke! -- No, it isn't.
Resource Allocation	At times, MiraCosta seems too rigid; however, it also seems unfair when hiring full-time faculty. It should hire from within. It only makes sense. Students with disabilities are not really getting their needs met. Now, in part it's not just MiraCosta responsibility, it's a bigger structure. Many students are not ready for college. Maybe it would be good to have a required 'how to survive college' class if they come straight from high-school with low scores. They won't be able to survive.
SLO's	I have been so disillusioned by the Outcomes juggernaut that I considered retirement. I have to believe that the college has enough smart, efficient, and creative faculty that we can jump through hoops for WASC without doing any real damage to our courses or teaching.
SLO's	Our Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment implementation has been deliberate, but thorough. This approach was intentional, to ensure sincere, robust participation by our faculty which will translate to a meaningful, lifelong learning experience for our students.

SLO's	The crisis of leadership here reflects the Board's misunderstanding of its governance principles. The Board has gone through the motions to document attempts at moving beyond the problems of the prior years, but it really hasn't demonstrated the sincere will to evolve. Having said that, I do feel that the interim president is giving them much better guidance. Most disturbing about the Board majority is their clear resentment of faculty and surprising disdain for higher education. We have belatedly gotten to Student Learning Outcomes, having attempted to establish them at the programmatic level first rather than classroom level. Having adapted to the later, we are moving quickly on this baleful trend. Despite all the problems, this remains a great working location. It operates on the principle of workaholicism, and any agency investigating the health of the school ought to look into the general fatigue of the faculty and staff. I think stronger leadership can help here.
Student Services	Mira Costa College need to increase it services, staff numbers and programs to serve a diverse population of students, staff and faculty.
Student Services	At times, MiraCosta seems too rigid; however, it also seems unfair when hiring full-time faculty. It should hire from within. It only makes sense. Technology	While the college may encourage open communication, I have recently noticed that some classified staff members seem to hold back questions or opinions in possible fear of retaliation for expressing honest concerns. The new Dell printers are HUGE and do not work as well as the older HP's. Currently, there seems to be no technology training. I ask co-workers or open lab staff for help when needed as there is no one else to seek assistance from.
Technology	Reinstate a training person for AIS. Since Greg Hope left, this area is lacking.

Technology	I wanted to recognize an employee that went out of her way to give me a helping hand, Karen Korstad. She took time out of her busy schedule to teach me about something that I wanted to learn about. For 45 minutes, she taught me what I needed to know. In addition, I brought my 4 year old with me that day, and she was kind and considerate to both my daughter and me. I just wanted to recognize her, because she went out of her way and it made a big difference to me. Thanks! I think we should appreciate the efforts others make more than we do now.
