I am contacting you about some open positions. These are more for a CS or CIS major. In case anyone is interested, we are looking for 6-12 junior level techs for a computer/network lab in San Diego. Having or being close to obtaining an Associates in Computer Science, Information Systems, Network Tech or similar would be a perfect fit. Alternately having equivalent experience will work as well. Certifications (A+, Security+, Linux+ or CCENT) are a plus but are not required. Applicants will have to be eligible to receive a US Gov't Security Clearance after hire. Starting pay is approximately $45-$65K annually depending on skills and experience. Any interested applicants can send a current resume to my email - Cameron_Sean@bah.com. They're encouraged to send quickly, as we need to get a start on filling positions early next week. Feel free to pass this on to any colleagues in the CS department or other community colleges. Thanks for your time and assistance, and have a wonderful day.

Respectfully,

Sean Cameron
