Beth Powell, Faculty, MiraCosta College

"There are so many benefits for students to take dual enrollment courses, a smooth transition from high school to college, first-hand experience to see what is expected of a college student, and a chance to complete a college degree faster than they would otherwise. I have encouraged my own children to take college courses throughout their high school career. By participating in the dual enrollment program with MiraCosta, my daughter will be completing her Associates Degree one year ahead of her peers."

Dual enrollment is an arrangement that allows high school students to take college classes at their high school before, during, or after the school day. Students get credit for both a high school course and the college course that's why it's called dual enrollment.

As a high school student, you can take college courses with your high school peers, explore different areas of interest, and earn college credit while still in high school.

A federal law that protects the privacy of educational records of all students enrolled in schools beyond the high school level.

MCC staff and faculty are unable to provide student-specific information to anyone unless the student has given their consent.

Once a student applies to college, the rights on their student record moves from the parent to the student, regardless of the student's age.

Find more information on FERPA here.

Financial Aid Implications

- Dual enrollment courses count as college courses. They are included in a student's college GPA and factor into total units attempted and completed.
- To be eligible for financial aid in college, students must maintain at least a 2.0 GPA and complete 66.7% of courses attempted with an "A", "B", "C", "D", or "P."
- Failing grades, drops, withdrawals, and incompletes will lower the completion percentage and may have future financial aid implications.
- The important thing to keep in mind is that successful completion of college courses in high school can help students graduate from college earlier.

MiraCosta Promise

- Who qualifies?
 - First-time full-time college student
 - Must complete a FAFSA or CA Dream Act Application
 - Enroll in 12 units or more each semester
 - Must be eligible for in-state tuition
- For the first two years
 - Pays tuition
 - Pays fee
 - $250 book voucher

Students who have taken Dual Enrollment course(s) are still considered first-time full-time college students and are eligible for MiraCosta Promise after they graduate high school
