Perkins Career and Technical Education Improvement Act of 2006 (17-C01-032) awarded to MiraCosta College and administered by the California Community College Chancellor's Office. The district, and each individual who represents the district, shall provide access to its services, classes, and programs without regard to age, ancestry, color, physical or mental disability, pregnancy, gender, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, medical condition, genetic information, national origin, parental status, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, military or veteran status, or because he or she is perceived to have one or more of the foregoing characteristics, or based on association with a person or group with one or more of these actual or perceived characteristics.

THE THEATRE AT MIRACOSTA COLLEGE

The newly remodeled theatre at MiraCosta College is a contemporary space designed especially for college actors. With seating for 243, the theatre is warm and intimate and features a full fly counterweight system; hydraulic thrust stage; vom; costume and scene shops; a state-of-the-art makeup facility; and up-to-date computerized sound and lighting systems, including many new LED lighting instruments.

MIRACOSTA COLLEGE'S THEATRE PRODUCTIONS

MiraCosta College produces four plays each year: a musical, a comedy, a drama and a classical piece. Often one play in the season is performed in a "black box" configuration. The theatre program has a strong working relationship with the music and dance programs, creating more opportunities for students interested in technology and design.

KENNEDY CENTER/AMERICAN COLLEGE THEATRE FESTIVAL

Each year, the MiraCosta College Theatre Program participates in the Kennedy Center/American College Theatre Festival. Students participating in the festival have the opportunity to view others' work, compete as designers, technicians, and stage managers, and meet students and faculty from a variety of university transfer destinations and graduate programs.

MiraCosta College students have routinely reached the semi- and finalist rounds of the regional competition. Sarah Kelley, a MiraCosta College stage-management student, won the national competition in 2006. In 2009, the college took home the coveted KC/ACTF "Best Load-in Award," (pictured left, held by Kelly Kissinger) beating out eight other college and university productions.

TECHNICAL THEATRE PROGRAM

Students in MiraCosta College's Technical Theatre Program are provided with well-rounded training in all aspects of technical theatre. Instruction is both theoretical and hands-on with many opportunities to apply learned skills by working on the four main stage theatre productions as well as on student productions, music and dance concerts. MiraCosta College has one of the best community college makeup programs in the state with an honors component for students wishing a more in-depth experience. Students can expect to leave the program with marketable skills to start a career in technical theatre and/or with solid preparation to continue their studies in a university or conservatory setting.

PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

MiraCosta College students take advantage of working relationships with local theatres and production companies such as Moonlight Stage Productions, New Village Arts, Oceanside Theatre Company, North Coast Repertory Theatre and Star Theatre. MiraCosta College is often a venue for the annual auditions and tech interviews for professional companies like PCPA Theaterfest based in Santa Maria and the Summer Repertory Theatre in Santa Rosa.

BACKSTAGE PLAYERS

The Backstage Players is MiraCosta College's student theatre club. The club provides opportunities for interaction with MiraCosta College students, faculty, administration and the community. The club also promotes and presents theatre productions to the student body and general public.
